To Whom It May Concern,

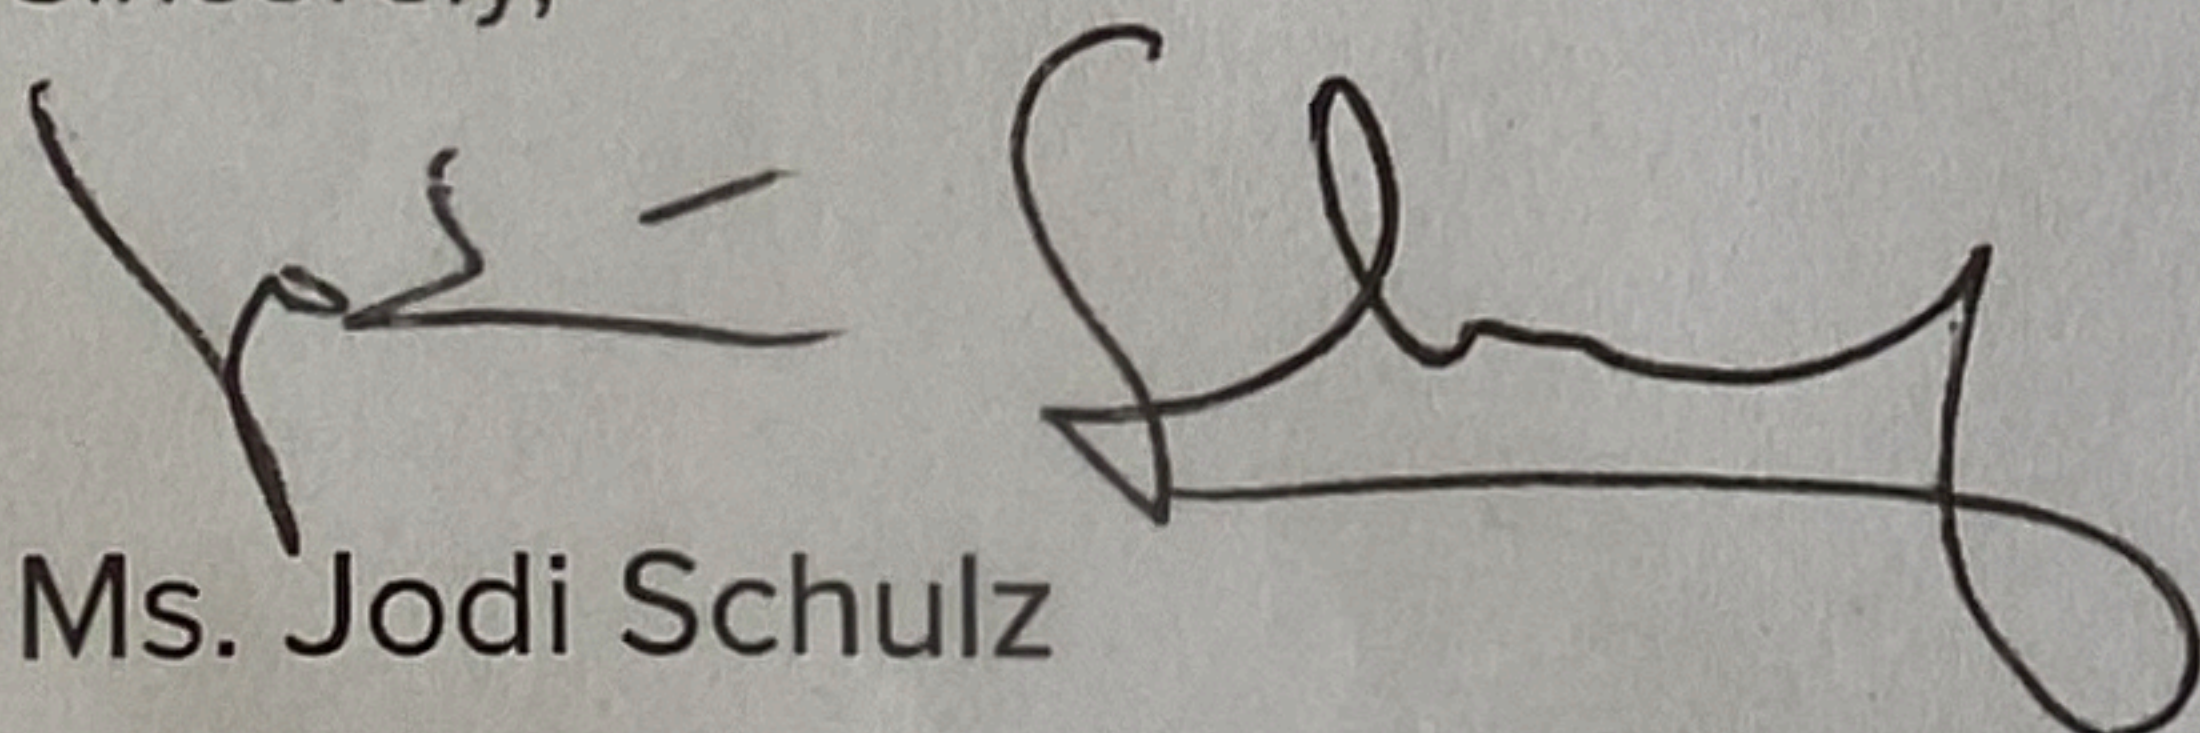

Please accept this letter as recommendation for the consideration of Miss Fawn Neaman for your generous scholarship.

Fawn has been an art student of mine beginning in middle school, and has taken art throughout her budding scholastic career. Fawn has been an exemplary student in every respect since the first day that she entered my class, and has developed amazing artistic talent and skill despite having to overcome personal obstacles. Her academic accomplishments mirror those of her artistic ones; Fawn has maintained a high GPA, and has been honored for her many academic successes.

In addition, Fawn has been an active member of both school and community organizations, including FBLA, FCCLA, NHS, Wendover Youth Prevention, and the Career Association. She has also been the president of our Skills USA for three years. Lastly, Fawn has been involved in community services, including community clean ups, toy drives, and entertainment activities. One of Fawn's most notable achievements is her design of a beautiful community mural, which was subsequently painted under her direction.

To close, Fawn is highly motivated to succeed in meeting her own aspirations, and compassionate about promoting the well-being and success of others. For this reason, I cannot think of a more deserving recipient for your generous scholarship.

Sincerely,

Ms. Jodi Schulz

To Who It May Concern,

It is my pleasure to recommend Fawn Neaman for this scholarship opportunity. I have had the pleasure of meeting Fawn this school year and am currently her A.P. Government Instructor. Fawn is not your ordinary student in and sense of the word! Fawn is an inspiration to me and to those around her. In my 30 years of teaching I do not think I have had a more driven and braver student. You see, Fawn is confined to a wheel chair. She has limited use of her hands and completes assignments by writing with her mouth. She never complains, and in fact encourages and builds up those around her. Fawn does not suffer from her handicap, she overcomes. Even with all of the challenges that she faces on a daily basis, Fawn achieves at a very high level, both academically and in extracurricular activities.

Fawn has enrolled in college level classes throughout her high school education and currently has 3.79 GPA and ranks near the top of her class. She is also involved in the entire school, serving as the President of Skills USA, a member of FCCLA, FBLA and The National Honor Society. Fawn is equally talented as an artist. She has completed many gallery quality works of art and hopes to open a gallery of her own one day. She has also volunteered throughout the community and has had a great involvement in programs from toy drives to assisting in painting a mural in her home town of Wendover Nevada.

While some may mistakenly judge Fawn by her paralysis and wheel chair. They will be making a grave error! I believe that Fawn is an excellent candidate for this scholarship, and will be a success in any endeavor that she embarks upon.

Respectfully,
